

Nadia Abada
French Tax Law

Nadia is a French attorney practicing in international tax law in Toulouse, France.

She holds a Master's degree in tax law from the University of Toulouse, which she earned in 2022, followed by a diploma in international tax law from Leiden University in the Netherlands.

She initially focused on French individual and corporate taxation, gaining significant expertise in the complexities of French tax regulations. Over time, her practice evolved to concentrate on international tax law.

Since 2024, Nadia has been working at a law firm specializing in international mobility. In this role, she advises corporate clients on a range of legal matters, including labor law, social security, and international tax law.

Affiliated with the Toulouse Bar, Nadia can assist with the following services:

- Tax and social security advice related to departure from or arrival in France.
- Assistance with mandatory tax filings in France.
- Assistance with communications with the French tax authorities (pre-litigation and litigation).
